Our region is part of Wiradjuri country and includes the eclectic towns of Gulgong, Kandos, Mudgee and Rylstone and many rural villages.

Tourism is a vital part of our local economy. Mid-Western Regional Council works closely with the local tourism industry to make sure you'll have a fabulous experience when visiting, and ensure our offering keeps growing.

Our population of over 24,000 is made up of many 'tree changers' who have traded city life for the joys of country living. Our culture is diverse and active, with a strong metropolitan flavour.

The Glen Willow Regional Sporting Complex in Mudgee has hosted national and international events, and ensures the town is billed as a major destination for sporting spectaculars.

Gulgong is the site of gold discovery, Rylstone is the perfect base for a scenic drive or bushwalk and Kandos is the gateway to the wonderland of Wollemi National Park.

The arts and culture of the region's towns is now a key draw card like our local wine and locally-grown produce. There are endless exhibitions and opportunities for participation, and our display of outdoor public art continues to grow.

Council hosts dozens of major events each year. Crowds gather for national sporting clashes and streets are closed for wine and food festivals. We're always working on something to give you another reason to come back.

People are choosing the Mudgee region more and more to live, work, invest and visit. Discover for yourself our region's rich history and natural beauty, and enjoy our famous hospitality.

VISITOR INFO CENTRE
84 MARKET ST. MUDGEE

1 ROBERTSON PARK (OPPOSITE VISITOR CENTRE)

Market Square was the original name and in April 1846, the site of the first Mudgee Show. Take time to reflect at the 1914–1918 War Memorial. Band Rotunda – built in 1903

2 POST OFFICE

Corner of Market and Perry Streets; named as The Post and Telegraph Office, the original building was erected in the 1860s. Over time there have been several additions, completed in ways making the original and the additions difficult to identify. The first Post Office, though not on this site, was built in 1840.

3 DEAR, LONERAGAN AND HOGAN, SOLICITORS

70 Market Street (next to Big W). This double storied building was originally a CBC Bank (Commercial Banking Company of Sydney), later to become part of NAB

(National Australia Banking Company). The CBC opened in Mudgee in 1864 and closed in 1974. This building was erected in 1884 and holds National Trust classification.

4 THE TOWN HALL BUILDING

Market Street (next door). Built in 1880 and also holding National Trust classifications, extensive renovations were carried out over 2012–2013. It now houses the re-furnished library and a magnificent theatre where movies are shown on a monthly basis, concerts of world renowned quality, book launches and the like to name a few, are held. The lamp posts nearby are designed to hold gas lamps.

5 HANNAFORD COX CONNELLAN + MCFARLAND SOLICITORS

62 Market Street. This was built in the late 1920s and occupied by the State Bank of New South Wales, at the time called the Rural Bank of New South Wales from about 1935. This building holds classification by the National Trust.

6 THE ANGLICAN PARISH CHURCH OF SAINT JOHN THE BAPTIST

Corner Market and Church Streets. This magnificent church was completed in 1861 and replaced the 1841 building. The church contains excellent examples of stained glass and the church itself is classified by the National Trust.

7 THE CLOCK TOWER

Intersection Church and Market Streets. The clock tower was donated by Mr Ivan Adams as a War Memorial. Turn left into Church Street.

8 THE REGENT PICTURE THEATRE

Church Street. The Regent Theatre opened on Wednesday 21st August 1935 designed by Douglas Smith, the theatre was originally designed to accommodate live presentations. It hosted the world premiere of The Nugget which was filmed in and around Mudgee and starred Australian celebrities Eric Bana, Stephen Curry, Belinda Emmett among others. The theatre accommodated 986 people, and is a rare example of an Art Deco Theatre.

9 SAINT MARY OF THE PRESENTATION ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH

Corner of Church and Market Street. The Presbytery was built in 1851 and along with the Church are both classified by the National Trust. The original church was demolished and replaced with a sandstone building in 1860. This, except for the sanctuary and vestry, was in turn demolished and replaced with the present body of the church in 1873 to 1876. In 1911 the steeple was added. It is believed the spire is the third highest in New South Wales. The church has a beautiful mix of Gothic and Byzantine architecture. The acclaimed artist George de Pyro painted "The Stations of the Cross", noted for their colour and realism and are regarded amongst the best in the country. Visitors are always welcome.

10 LONERAGAN'S STORE

Church Street (just past pedestrian crossing). This retail outlet, similar to Kellett's, was originally a department store. The store first opened in 1870 (next to The Lawson Park Hotel) and moved in 1873 to the present location. The complex is now subdivided into several stores. With the arrival of major national chains, Loneragan's finally closed their doors in 1984.

11 KELLY'S IRISH PUB

Corner Church and Mortimer Streets. Formerly The Mudgee, The Waratah, The Sydney Hotel and before that at one time Lamont's General Store which was one of the earliest stores in Mudgee. Apparently Lamont's boasted a fully tailored men's suit in six hours. Turn left into Mortimer Street.

12 THE ORIENTAL HOTEL

Corner Mortimer and Lewis Streets. Built in 1876, it is one of the few hotels in Mudgee which has traded under the same name since opening.

13 THE UNITING CHURCH

89 Mortimer Street. Formerly the Methodist Church, built in 1860–1864 and holding National Trust classification. A Wesleyan Chapel was built here in about 1853 and is now part of the shops on the corner of Church and Mortimer Streets. Turn left into Perry Street.

14 PERRY STREET HOTEL

Corner Perry and Gladstone Streets. Formerly the Mechanics Institute and erected in 1865, The Perry Street Hotel was previously branded De Russie Suites. Mechanics Institutes originated in England and were centres for technical education, that is the trades. They housed libraries and were often the centre of a town's social life. In fact it is recorded that Henry Lawson used the library here regularly. It also appears to have housed The Mudgee School of Arts at some stage and was used as the Mudgee Municipal Library during the 1950s. Now regarded as one of the country's top boutique hotels. Head back towards Market Street.

15 THE MUDGEE GUARDIAN NEWSPAPER BUILDING

9 Perry Street. First published in 1890 it has continued, though under several owners (currently the Fairfax Group) to deliver good news and bad to Mudgee Region.

16 THE COBB & CO BOUTIQUE HOTEL

Corner Perry and Market Streets. The Cobb + Co Court is one of the oldest known original hotel buildings still standing in Mudgee. Built in the late 1850s, it was well known as an overnight stop for the Cobb + Co Royal Mail Coaches. It was a substantial brick building, with the restaurant section being used to house the Cobb + Co coaches and store fodder for the horses. For 2 shillings a traveller could obtain bed and breakfast, and it cost 8 shillings to stable 2 horses.

rylstone HISTORICAL WALK

ENJOY A WALK ALONG THE ROUTE LAID OUT AND VIEW THE BEAUTY OF THE OLD BUILDINGS. LOOK FOR THE HERITAGE PLAQUES ON OR ADJOINING MOST OF THE BUILDINGS.

1 THE SCHOOL OF ARTS + MEMORIAL HALL
Now known as the Small Hall, the School of Arts (c1910) was originally a library and centre for meetings. It later functioned as a supper room, for card tournaments, as a Red Cross Centre and Scout Hall. The 1926 Memorial Hall next door was once used as the town's cinema theatre and is now used as a multifunction Community Hall.

2 JACKSON'S CORNER
Built by John Wesley Jackson, these shops were originally constructed in stone. A disastrous fire in 1927 destroyed the buildings but new ones were erected on the foundations. The stone barn, by the Showground gate, and Jackson's original house with slab walls tucked behind the shops on the north side, remain intact in their appearance.

3 THE GLOBE HOTEL + SAMPLE ROOM
In 1880 Mr Holland, an ex-saddler, and his father-in-law Mr Thomas Owen, an ex-policeman, built a sandstone hotel of 12 rooms. It was soon extended to accommodate the increased business brought by the railway in 1884. The entrances and façade were altered in the 1930's due to changes in the street level. The Sample Room next door was constructed to provide a space for commercial travellers to display their wares to local storekeepers.

4 ST. MALACHY'S CHURCH
This graceful 1875 Catholic church replaced a small timber slab church built in the 1850's. The style is Victorian Gothic, with an Italianate belltower. An addition to the front was made in 1960 with stone from a private chapel on Monivae, a property near Rylstone.

5 RYLSTONE GARAGE
Cars came to Rylstone in the 1920's, and this building was Rylstone's first garage. Removing the cars made a great space for dancing, and the Sample Room opposite was near enough for a supper room. The garage was also the first venue for silent movies before the cinema operated at the Memorial Hall.

6 FLOUR MILL
This building was originally a 3 storey flour mill built in 1872 by John Purvis. In 1893 the boiler blew up and rocketed through the wall and into the building next door, killing two people. This event, and a fire in 1922, resulted in major changes to the look of the building. It has operated as a milk bar and café since the 1960's.

7 PURVIS' STORE
The building on the right side was built by Purvis as a shop and residence. Subsequent owner Edward Nash doubled the downstairs area, adding to the verandah and creating the illusion that the upper storey extends over the whole building. It has served as an ironmongery, haberdashery and grocery store.

8 THE BRIDGE HOTEL
This fine building, built for publican Goodwin Spires Hall, opened in 1872. In 1895 it became a bank and manager's residence and was used as such until 1957. It was acquired by the Historical Society in the 1960's and now hosts a variety of boutique businesses and accommodation. The building is protected by a permanent conservation order and is on the NSW State Heritage Register.

9 JAMES NASH HOUSE
Built for James Nash, blacksmith, this home was originally located near the Showground. The building now houses the Cottage Museum and the family history archives of Rylstone and District Historical Society. It is open Sundays 10am-3pm or by appointment.

10 HALL'S CORNER
These two early cottages were erected by Goodwin Spires Hall to house his extended family. In later years they were converted to a number of businesses including a newsagency, bootmakers, garage, solicitor's office and bank.

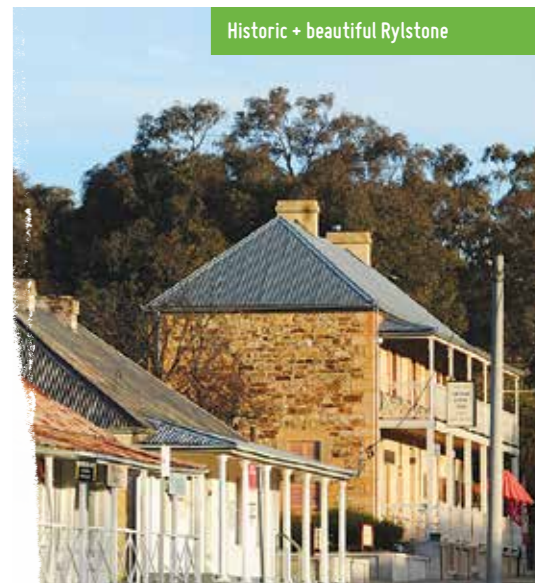

11 THE DRY GOODS STORE
This substantial building was erected for John W Hardwick to house his dry goods and general store. It operated as such until the 1900's. For a number of years it served the community as the local Masonic Hall.

12 HEDINGLY
The home of John W Hardwick, commenced in 1859. It was later owned for many years by local general practitioner Dr. Howe. His daughter still resides here. They have undertaken restoration in keeping with the original design.

13 HIGHFIELD COTTAGE
This is one of the very early slab cottages of Rylstone still standing, built by Robert T Highfield.

14 ST JAMES' CHURCH OF ENGLAND
The church was consecrated in 1864 and features splendid stained glass windows. It was one of the earliest Anglican churches west of the Blue Mountains. At the rear is a small slab building that functioned as both church and Rylstone's first schoolhouse in the 1850's.

15 WESLEYAN CHURCH
The Wesleyan Church, serving a growing Methodist congregation, was built in 1884. It now serves the Uniting Church congregation. The building replaced the smaller sandstock brick Zion Chapel (1852, now demolished) that stood next to St Andrews Church. A Temperance Hall (1874) once stood in the present roadway. The Federation period church manse, on the opposite corner, is of brick construction.

16 ST. ANDREWS CHURCH
This small church was opened in 1902 free of debt to serve local Scottish Presbyterian families. It is no longer in use following the formation of the Uniting Church and is now in private hands.

17 THE POLICE COMPLEX
These buildings date from 1875 to 1895, and consist of the Court House; the Constable's House (with sandstone lock up and cells - no longer in use), the Sergeant's House, and the slab stable at the rear. The rear of the Constable's House houses the current Police Station, and the Court House is still in use.

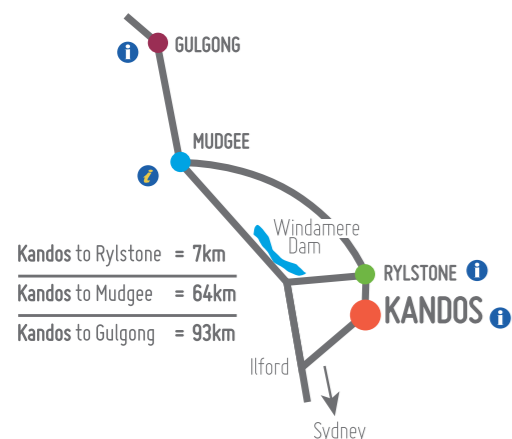

18 THE POST OFFICE
Postal deliveries to Rylstone commenced in 1850. The Post Office and the Telegraph Office were originally separate, but combined in this building built in 1880, along with a residence on the right side. It operated as the town's post office until 2007.

19 THE SHIRE CHAMBERS
Rylstone Shire was formed in 1906 and functioned for 98 years until parts of Rylstone, Mudgee and Merriwa Councils were merged to form Mid-Western Regional Council. The building was erected in 1913 and extended in the 1970's.

Once a private village and home to the largest cement works in the southern hemisphere, Kandos has an eclectic array of unique businesses and creative artisans, making it a place like no other.

Kandos is a great location to base yourself, with easy access to Blue Mountains, Capertree Valley, Bathurst, Mudgee and Wollemi National Park. There are plenty of accommodation options, too.

Enterprising locals have come up with plenty of ways to welcome visitors. The town's working class heritage has not been lost and can be explored and absorbed at the locally run Kandos Museum and Visitor Information Centre.

Local craftsman Brett Nutting of AdHoc Furniture produces unique hand-crafted masterpieces from repurposed materials. His showroom is a must-visit.

And for the nature lovers out there, we are just a stone's throw from Dunns Swamp Ganguddy, which was originally built to provide water for the Kandos Cement Works. Kandos is a great base to explore this popular camping and picnic area within the Wollemi National Park. We promise – it's not a swamp! Set on the banks of the Cudgegong River and nestled amongst stunning sandstone pagoda rock formations, Dunns Swamp Ganguddy enjoys an outstanding biodiversity of plant and animal communities with at least 107 bird species spotted in the area. With a number of walking tracks, canoeing and swimming activities you'll be spoilt for choice.

Kandos is also a true gateway to the Capertee Valley, the world's second largest canyon (1 km wider than the Grand Canyon, but not quite as deep). The valley is recognised internationally as one of the top 50 bird watching places in the world. If you're thinking of camping at Capertee, why not stop by Kandos to grab your essentials first.

And, for a small town, Kandos really puts on some pretty remarkable events celebrating Kandos' physical and cultural environs and it's unique character. From the tyre smokin' Street Machine in January to the biennial Garden Fair, and in between a hugely popular biennial contemporary art festival Cementsa, this town is not to be missed exploring.

KANDOS

WALK AROUND Kandos

The town of Kandos began as a private village to service the cement company (which closed in 2011). It is one of only a few twentieth century towns in Australia. As you explore the town note these features:

- Arches and Greek columns on public buildings
- A diversity of housing in ash brick, fibro, cement render, hardiplank, timber and brick
- Original fencing in ash brick, concrete and wire

- Craftsmen's symbols on the front of some houses
- Distinctive and curious house names, letter boxes and garden pieces, interesting gardens and plants

1 KANDOS HOTEL 1916 CNR ANGUS AVE AND WHITE CRES (9D)
The Kandos Hotel is the oldest commercial building in Kandos. Tooth and Co paid a high price for the land in the belief that a caveat on all land titles would prevent the building of another hotel in the town.

2 RAILWAY STATION 1914 DAVIES RD (10C)
This hand-me-down railway station (transported from Locksley on the Central Tablelands) was, at one time, one of the busiest stations on the Mudgee line.

3 RAILWAY HOTEL 1927 CNR ILFORD RD AND CLIFFORD ST (10C)
Because it was built on private land this second hotel was unaffected by the cement company's caveat. Note the exposed brickwork, verandahs, ornate parapet, awnings, pillars and French doors. The Kandos Hotel had similar features until the 1950s.

4 COURT HOUSE 1929 ILFORD RD (9C)
Until this charming brick and tile building with its enclosed verandah and Greek columns was completed, the first court room in Kandos was located in McGrath's premises (see 6. The Kandos Stores). The court closed in 1970 and it is now a police residence. The police station beside it was built in 1961.

5 THE ROTUNDA 1930 WHITE CRES (9D)
This handsome temple-like structure with its domed roof, Greek columns, octagonal shape, wrought-iron balustrade and steps, awaits a Sunday afternoon brass band.

6 THE KANDOS STORES 1918 ANGUS AVE (9E)
Built as a business and residence by J P McGrath, this is a spacious, two-storey, double-fronted building with cantilevered verandah. Over the years it has housed a bank, court house, café, draper, milliner, TAB, dress shop and professional rooms.

7 CHURCH OF ENGLAND 1921 CNR ANGUS AVE AND JAQUES ST (9F)
Evolving over decades this simple, charming, gothic-style church has walls of rough-hewn stone and a roof of corrugated iron. Note the bell and belfry between the church and rectory.

8 ANGUS MEMORIAL HALL 1917 ANGUS AVE (9H)
Named after the Chairman of the cement company, this hall was the centrepiece of Kandos social life in the first two decades. Benefits, concerts, balls, church services, meetings and carnivals were all held here. For many years it also housed the cinema, public library and hairdresser. It is now a florist and Harley-Davidson museum.

9 KANDOS COMMUNITY CENTRE 1956 ANGUS AVE (9F)
Set back from the main street this imposing building can hold 700 to 800 people. It is constructed of cement-rendered ash brick with a corrugated fibro roof. Accommodated beneath it, in what was once the kitchen and supper room, is the Kandos Library.

10 POST OFFICE 1926 CNR ANGUS AVE AND JAQUES ST (9E)
This red brick building, with its classical revival features, added a proud, solemn air to Angus Avenue when it was built. Note the Greek columns, unadorned roof-line, lintel (depicting the name Post Office Kandos), and formal steps.

11 THE CLOCK 1958 CNR JAQUES ST AND ANGUS AVE (9E)
Sixteen immigrants, who were naturalized at the first citizenship ceremony to be held in Kandos, presented this obelisk and clock to the town. The name Kandos and ornate wrought iron were added in 2008.

12 KANDOS MUSEUM 1919 22 BUCHANAN ST (10E)
This former Methodist Church was the first religious building in Kandos. The Superintendent of the cement company, Floyd S Richards, had it built in the Californian mission style of his hometown church in America.

13 THE SCOUT HALL 1942 DABEE RD (10J)
A gift of the cement company, the scout hall has provided scouting skills for generations of children who have dashed through the turnstile, down the cement path and up the steps to the entrance, framed by the cement awning and pillars.

14 CATHOLIC CHURCH 1922 DANGAR ST (7J)
This church was built to serve the dual purpose of church and school. Every week the altar was curtained off with green velvet curtains. The moveable blackboards and desks (which converted to high-backed seats for Sunday Mass) were arranged to form classes.

15 THE GOOD SAMARITAN CONVENT 1930 FLEMING ST (6J)
An architectural gem in the Spanish Mission Style, this former convent, with its handsome arches, Greek columns and wide verandahs, was designed to catch the sun in winter and the shade in summer.

16 UNITING CHURCH 1927 CNR NOYES AND DUNN STS (6I)
Dedicated and opened as a Presbyterian Church, it became a Uniting Church in 1970. It is a plain somewhat austere concrete building with arched lancet windows, a pitched roof and buttresses.

17 KANDOS SCHOOL 1929 FLEMING ST (7E)
Despite the Progress Association wanting a concrete building, the government chose this two-storey brick design with sash windows and a tiled roof. Now connected to other buildings you can identify it by the foundation stone. From Jaques Street, you can see the first weatherboard school, built in 1924.

18 TRUSWELL'S PALAIS DE DANCE 1936 CNR ILFORD RD AND HENBURY AVE (6D)
Now a vehicle workshop, this hall once had navy and gold drapes, padded seats, and modern appointments. It was the venue of choice for many district balls.

BYLONG

Just 11km from Rylstone, the very picturesque Bylong Valley was first explored by William Lawson in 1822 after the discovery of the Goulburn River which was named after Henry Goulburn, the Colonial Secretary. Today the Bylong Valley is a lush and green area famous for racehorse and beef cattle studs. There is a general store, a school and a public hall.

GLEN ALICE

Just over 40km from Kandos, Glen Alice sits at the beginning of the Wollemi National Park, a completely uninhabited area which extends north along the Great Dividing Range. At the north-east end, the Nile Creek rises and flows down over wide sandy flats. This area is one of sheep and cattle. It is said to have been much favoured by many artists for its scenery and colours.

GLEN DAVIS

Situated in the Capertee Valley, just over 50km from Rylstone and Kandos, the small town of Glen Davis is north of Lithgow and off the road to Mudgee.

HARGRAVES

40km from Mudgee, Hargraves is often referred to as the veteran of the region's gold towns. The gold rush began there in 1851 with the discovery of the famous 'Kerr's Hundredweight', a nugget which contained 1,272 ounces of gold. Since the surge of miners that followed this discovery, Hargraves is now a quiet and peaceful village with a general store, post office and school.

HILL END

Located 72km from Mudgee. This historic gold mining town, once a thriving multi-cultural community in the 1870s gold rush era, is today a quaint heritage town. Home to an eclectic community, where visitors are welcomed and encouraged to explore the town through its museum, walking trails, look-outs, gallery, pub, general store and twice annual open days to take a peak inside historic homes. If you have a full day, make your return journey to Mudgee via Sofala and Ilford.

LUE

Lue (chain of waterholes) believed to be pronounced in the Aboriginal language like 'Loo-wee' was originally named Dungaree. The village was moved to allow for the installation of the rail line in 1884 when it was a busy little village on the route to the Hunter Region. In its heyday, Lue boasted a bakery, hotel, blacksmith, two general stores, a product merchant and butcher. Today there's a popular pub, the unique Lue Pottery and some self-contained and farm stay accommodation options. Take the scenic drive to Rylstone from Mudgee via Lue.

SOFALA

One of the area's most successful gold mining towns. Gold was still Sofala's primary industry right up to the 1940s. Today, you can enjoy the town's heritage streetscape and still fossick for gold dust in the Turon River. Located just under 50km from Kandos.

WINDEYER

Nestled in a beautiful valley 40km south-west of Mudgee, Windeyer is steeped in history. Gold was discovered in 1851 and during that era it was common for fossickers to yield up to four ounces of gold per pan. The heritage listed 1911 Windeyer Hotel still operates today, as does a caravan park where you can hire gold panning equipment. Some of the world's best superfine wool comes from this district.

WOLLAR

The gateway to the Goulburn River National Park. According to records, a noted pastoralist called Fitzgerald was one of the first settlers in Wollar who employed many shepherds and stockmen to supervise his cattle and sheep. The village was officially declared in March 1885.

PEDAL IT

There are lots of ways to explore Mudgee Region. Imagine yourself on a bicycle with the fresh country air filling your lungs and breezing through your hair, cycling the region is definitely one of the most exhilarating ways.

From easy rides around town and longer distance road trails to single track and dirt roads for mountain biking, there are plenty of choices for those looking to pedal the region. You can hire or bring your own.

Around town you can ride the cycle path that runs along the river from Lawson Park to Walkers Oval where it crosses the Cudgegong River before looping back around past the Glenn Willow sports complex to Lawson Park.

The Rocky Waterhole loop is a favourite amongst locals. This 25km road ride passes by paddocks on the river flats, open farmland and past the base of Mount Frome, with stunning views across the Mudgee valley.

The Tinja Lane, Strikes Lane, Mount Pleasant ride offers those with mountain bikes or hybrids the chance to ride some of the dirt back roads close to town. The full ride is around 30km, but there are a number of short cuts along the way should you not want to go the full distance. This ride passes wineries, vineyards and working farms, giving you the chance to experience the best of our region.

As these are not designated cycling tracks, riders do so at their own risk.

Mudgee Region is also home to a popular cycling event and a number of cycling clubs, check out our website for more information on the annual Bike Muster event.

FUN FACT

Windamere Dam offers some heart-stopping moments for anglers seeking Murray cod, silver perch and catfish. However, it's the thrill of catching Windamere's golden perch that have the fishing fanatics excited.

PUTTA BUCCA WETLANDS

Located off Putta Bucca Road just north of Mudgee, this waterbird paradise exhibits a wide range of flora and fauna. Easily accessed with a parking area and includes an easy 2km walk and two newly built birdhides. This is a recreational area for birdwatching, bicycle riding, fishing and walking.

FROG ROCK

This unusual granite rock formation resembles a crouching frog and can be seen on the left hand side of the Ulan Cassilis Road, 19km north of Mudgee, 1.5km past Hadabob Road.

WINDAMERE DAM

Just 19 km south-west of Rylstone on the Cudgegong River in the Cudgegong Valley, and worth a visit for fishing, watersports, camping and caravanning.

HANDS ON ROCK

These stencils of hands were made by the Wiradjuri people who occupied most of the central west of what is now New South Wales, and were one of the largest of Aboriginal language groups. This heritage site is about 12km east of Ulan and 2km on the left hand side past the entrance to 'The Drip'.

To get there, turn left off the Ulan-Cassilis Road at the Bobadeen Road sign, turn sharp left again, and drive 500 metres to the car park.

The 'Hands on Rock' site is 600m from the car park. The path has a few roots across it, but is otherwise easy for about 400 metres; then it slopes up steadily to the rock cliffs. There are steps along the way, but some loose stones towards the end of the path require a little care, particularly on the way down. One of the features of the walk is the relatively unspoilt forest that surrounds the area. It is typical of the vegetation that once covered this part of the ranges. Please treat this area with care and respect. A viewing platform has been built, and visitors are asked not to leave it or the walking path.

THE DRIP

'The Drip' is a towering sandstone cliff-face adorned with weeping grasses and ferns and dripping clear spring water into the river below (and a local favourite). 'The Drip' picnic area is situated 50 km (30 min) north of Mudgee on the Cassilis Rd (37km from Gulgong) and 10km past the village of Ulan. Turn right straight after the white cement bridge.

FERNTREE GULLY

This reserve protects an area of unique rainforest and western plant communities. The track to Ferntree Gully turns off from Bylong Valley Way 17km from Rylstone. It is a further 3 km on an unsealed track to the picnic area and start of walk.

There are a number of walking tracks at Ferntree Gully that take you down into the cool narrow ferntree-studded valley floor, and/or around the top edge of the rocks where you can get an overview of the valley and the unusual rock formations on either side. Allow a minimum of one hour to do the loop walk and longer if you linger to enjoy the rock formations, ferns and orchids along the way. Take food and water. The walk through the gully, returning via the top track system, requires a reasonable degree of fitness. There is some scrambling over rocks and some quite steep ascents and descents on the steps leading into and out of the gully.

A damp section of the gully containing many tree ferns is accessible via a short boardwalk which allows comfortable access while protecting this sensitive part of the Reserve.

THE DRIP WALKING TRACK

Walkers need to wear sturdy shoes and be of average fitness. The track length is approx 1.5km (20 minutes) each way. The track begins at the Northern side of the parking area, near the 2nd BBQ and follows a cliff face adjacent to the Goulburn River. Proceed past the 3rd BBQ and over a foot bridge.

300m

Follow the rock face and cross over a tumble of rocks. Further down the track you come to a watercourse (Curra Creek).

600m

Cross over the creek and follow the path through ferns eventually crossing a dry watercourse.

850m

The track passes between a large rock on your right and a cliff face on your left. Look for the rock orchids and a small spreading fern with round succulent leaves. The track veers close to the river eventually dropping down onto the sand, passing through a hollowed arch rock. 100 m after the arch on the opposite bank a rock overhang contains a Brett Whitley mural done in 1970 by the famous artist.

1km

A sign indicates a sharp left turn back to the cliff face. Follow the track at the base of the cliff line until it ends. Cross over a grassy bank.

The Drip

A sharp turn on the left brings you to the beginning of the Drip. The river flows over a rock platform at the base of an overhanging cliff face, dripping clear spring water.

Kayaking at Dunns Swamp Ganguddy

DUNNS SWAMP (gangluddy)

Just 25km east of Rylstone this popular camping and picnic spot, located on the banks of the Cudgegong River, is nestled amongst stunning sandstone pagoda rock formations. Walking tracks running alongside the waterway include one suitable for wheelchairs and strollers.

Take to the water by hiring a kayak from Southern Cross Kayaking, based here during summer school holidays and weekends. Camping fees apply.

HILL END

Hill End is the site of the discovery in 1872 of the famous Holtermann Nugget – the largest single mass of gold ever discovered, weighing in at 285kg. Almost all the Mudgee Region yielded gold. Large amounts of alluvial gold were recovered in the last century and some small reefs were mined.

The Cudgegong River is renowned as an area where occasional small gems have been found, including diamonds, sapphires and rubies. The National Parks and Wildlife Service manages the Hill End historic site, providing a Heritage Centre. It is illegal to pan for gold within the town of Hill End, however there is a fossicking area set aside just north of the town at Tambaroora. The Bald Hill mine has also been restored and underground tours are held on a regular basis.

SOFALA

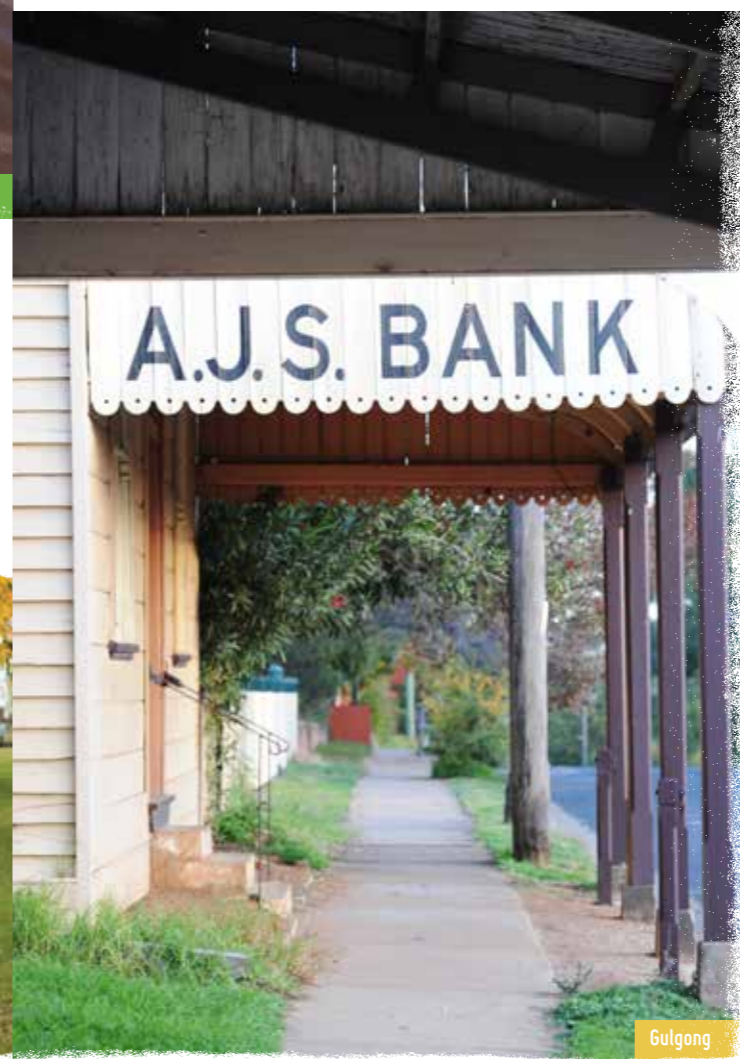

Gold fossicking equipment (except metal detectors but including gold pans) is also available at the Sofala Souvenir Shop – 02 6337 7075.

TAMBAROORA

Now a ghost town, Tambaroora 3km from Hill End was once a thriving centre rivaling Hill End in size. The fossicking area is located 67km from Mudgee on the right hand side of the Hill End Road, at the point where Tambaroora Creek crosses the road. There are allocated areas for fossicking in Tambaroora, contact the Visitor Information Centre for details – 02 6337 8206.

WINDEYER

Situated 37km from Mudgee, today the area remains popular for gold fossicking. There is a fossicking area adjacent to the hotel, on Long Creek and adjacent to the Meroo Creek Bridge on the Mudgee approach to the village. KANDOS MUSEUM

Kandos is the town that made the cement that made Sydney

In 1919, Floyd S. Richards, the first manager of Kandos Cement, envisaged a proud future for modern Kandos. Inspired by his native California, Floyd left a proud legacy of his beloved Spanish Mission style church. The church is now Kandos Museum, telling the story of the thriving 20th century town that made the cement that made Sydney. We think he would approve – come and see.

Winemakers across the Mudgee Region are extraordinarily passionate about impressing your palate. They seek to make each wine unique and compelling. They achieve this through diversity of climate, soil and wine making technique (and an unadulterated love for what they do).

Most importantly, you'll meet people who adore what they do. You'll find the unmistakable stamp of concentration, character and European finesse demonstrated in our wines, carefully matched to complement local produce at one of our region's many impressive eateries.

September is an excellent time to visit the region to experience our food and wine festival. IN THE REGION

Mudgee is known for its warm summer days and cool evenings. Our elevation allows for a slower ripening period which makes the area ideal for producing wines with great intensity of colour and flavour.

Originally, grapes were planted here in the 1850's in soils that are typically a red brown loam with a subsoil rich in clay. This allows for healthy root growth, good water infiltration and aeration.

FRESH + LOCAL

Produce to taste or take home

Your taste buds will never quite be the same after sampling Mudgee Region's locally foraged produce. The best thing is, there's more than one way to get into it.

Loads of Australia's finest foodies are bragging about their Mudgee Region experience, so why not see for yourself what all the fuss is about.

Mudgee has long been famed for its sweet sweet honey. We're also home to, and a major producer of, olives and high quality olive oils. You're a nut fan? That's ok; we have a delicious range of hazelnuts and pistachios too.

And you haven't tried local until you've sampled our cheeses (feta fanatics regularly revisit to restock), the perfect accompaniment to Mudgee wine. But, if sweet is more your thing we still have you covered with award winning chocolate, with beans sourced from Vanuatu, made right here in Mudgee.

Fresh is best and you can't beat free range lamb, beef, pork and yabbies for your protein hit. All feature on local menus across the region, that's the beauty about dining in the country. Local artisans do love sharing their food dreams. So, why not meet them in person to say hello and grab some tucker at our monthly Farmer's Markets and Farm Walks.

With country charm and a sophisticated café culture, enticing coffee aromas around town will draw you in. Kick back for a lazy long late brunch or lunch. Just delicious.

And our wine bars don't just do wine. They have a selection of craft beers and ciders and offer sophisticated bar food and more extensive dining options, again highlighting the region's abundance of locally grown produce.

Go on, enjoy it like the locals do. Eat and treat yourself across the Mudgee Region.
